WHAT?

Activist Art

Let me invite you to my transformative Queer performance art. I use my body as a human canvas to challenge injustice, explore identity, and bring issues into public space.

HOW?

My Body as a Human Canvas

I use my body as message, medium, and mirror. I do visual storytelling (body), verbal presentations and deliberate movements, showing my life and my non-binary identity.

FOR WHOM?

Did I Say “Queer”?

For Queer collectives, communities, organisers, parties, festivals, activists, art spaces, and events committed to equality, inclusivity, and Queer liberation.

WITH WHOM?

Did I Mention “Queer” – Again?

I work with artists, activists, collectives, community groups, and also my love Oliver through “Understanding Love 22” — celebrating Queer love as resistance.

WHICH ISSUES?

I Uncover a Lot, Like:

Non-binarism, ageism, body shaming, HIV stigma, mental health, abuse, colonialism, racism, capitalism, discrimination, gender and Queer policing, and Queer creativity.

WHAT'S UNIQUE?

In Short: Me!

I offer a non-binary canvas for political clarity, emotional presence, and improvisational, creative Queer activism that adapts to every venue and audience.

WHAT TO EXPECT?

Presence

Authentic presence, engaging messaging, political courage, and a unique act created specifically for the event's theme and space.

THE IMPACT?

I want:

Conversations that spark, assumptions that are challenged, communities that grow stronger. I advocate a more visible Queerness, and invite everyone to imagine new ways of living – beyond binaries.
