Mission

I act from joy, love, wisdom, and harmony to create spaces where people can breathe, exist, and grow as they are.

As Rayge.Uncovered, I use activist performance art to connect rather than impress.

My act is about presence, care, and community — especially for those who feel pushed aside or unheard.

Who is Rayge?

My name is Alfred, but from now on you can call me Rayge.

I'm a queer, nonbinary performance artist and activist. Rayge.Uncovered is where my life, creativity, and manifesto meet.

Rayge grew from adapting, surviving, and eventually connecting with my real self — and choosing to live, act, and create truthfully.

Why "Uncovered"?

Rayge.Uncovered came to life after many years of covering up my real self.

Through my performance art, I explore what happens when I show up as Rayge.

This act is not about shock or spectacle, but about clarity, vulnerability, and trust — uncovering moments where people can meet themselves and each other as they truly are.

How I act

I perform indoors and outdoors, mostly in intimate settings and public spaces.

Each performance adapts to the place, the time, and the audience.

Rayge appears in different guises — always flexible, relational, and grounded.

Every performance is unique, shaped together with whoever is present.

Human Canvas

Sometimes Rayge appears as a Human Canvas.

My body then becomes part of the act.

Nakedness, in my art, exists in many dimensions: emotional, ethical, creative, and sometimes physical.

Being naked is my way of communicating without filters, hierarchy, or prejudice.

Safe spaces

Creating safe spaces means being comfortable with being uncomfortable.

Based on my background in communication and years of sharing life with a diverse group of people, I create spaces where listening and understanding come first.

Different bodies, stories, and truths come together without pressure or performance.

Queer connection

I believe queer strength doesn't only live within ourselves, but between us, within our queer communities.

I want to build bridges between individuals, generations, and communities.

Because when we connect, we remember we're not alone.

We are community.

Beyond binaries

Through Rayge.Uncovered, I challenge binaries of all kinds — not only gender.

Binaries are colonial and capitalist constructs that serve only very few. Through my nakedness, I resist control and ownership over my body — any body.

I stand against fascism and domination, and stay close to Indigenous wisdom as a way forward.

At the heart of me

Joy, love, wisdom, and harmony are at the heart of everything I do.

They support my queer resistance on a daily basis. I enjoy connecting and interacting in a natural, non-performative way.

Harmony is key.

I live my values with gratitude and share them openly — to be seen, experienced, and felt.

Topics I care about

Guided by my Manifesto, I engage with many issues — from ageism, body shaming, and non-binarism to mental health and community-specific health topics.

My focus is care, clarity, and relevance.

In the end, it's all about love, isn't it?

Each performance is a manifestation rooted in authenticity.

Creativity alive

I'm not a screamer.

I act intuitively and calmly, creating space, time, and an atmosphere where creativity can thrive.

You'll find Rayge in dance spaces, galleries, community gatherings, protests, and public places. Social media helps me connect and inform — but my real act always happens live.

Rayge isn't about likes; they're about love.

Invitation

I'm deeply grateful to be able to do this, always curious about making new connections.

If you'd like Rayge to appear in your space or at your event — intimate or public — feel free to reach out.

You know I love to connect.

Because that's what Rayge.Uncovered does best.
